

Bob Philips

Chief Revenue Officer

Bob Philips is the Chief Revenue Officer of Audacy. Audacy is a scaled, multi-platform audio content and entertainment company with a leadership position in virtually every segment of the dynamic and growing audio business—including broadcasting, podcasting, digital, network, live events, music, sports and news. Audacy is also the number one creator of original, premium audio content, engaging over 200 million consumers each month.

In this role, Philips leads all aspects of revenue generation across the corporate, regional, and local levels and develops fully integrated, multiplatform sales solutions and breakthrough strategies to attract new revenue streams. He previously served as the President of Audacy Networks & Multi-Market Sales.

A 28-year broadcast veteran, Philips previously served as the President of Audacy Networks & Multi-Market Sales and held various roles at CBS Radio. Most recently, Philips served as CBS Radio's Chief Revenue Officer for two years, and spent the majority of his career at the market level. He served as Senior Vice President and Market Manager for CBS Radio Baltimore and launched the very successful CBS Radio sports station, 105.7 the Fan (WJZ-FM). During his tenure, he also negotiated broadcast rights to the Baltimore Ravens, Baltimore Orioles and Maryland Terrapins. Previously, Philips served as Director of National Sales at Sconnix Broadcasting and he began his career as an account executive for United Broadcasting.

Philips has been honored multiple times as one of Radio Ink Magazine's "Best Managers in Radio." He currently serves on the RAB Advisory Board and is an officer for the Maryland DC Delaware Broadcasters Association. Philips holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from St. Mary's College.
